SOLVE ATLANTIC

Governor of New Jersey Promises to Make an Independent Investigation in the Case of Clubman Roberts.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 2.—It is reported from Sea Girt this afternoon that Gov. Fort has determined to take a hand in the investigation into the mysterious shooting of Charles B. Roberts on the boardwalk last week and whip the local police into action.

The Governor is deeply incensed at the police methods at Atlantic City, and his anger has been further stirred by the seeming inactivity in so important a case as the Roberts shooting.

Beginning with the police suppression of the news of the crime, Gov. Fort has watched the case develop with keen interest, and he declares now that if the State Government can do anything to help uncover the facts of the tragedy he will see that aid is rendered. The Governor said at Sea Girt to-day that he had received no information of an official character regarding the attempt on Mr. Roberts's life, but that he had read the newspapers closely. He was particularly impressed by the statement made by Mrs. Williams on
